Saliba's extends to Tucson

Saliba's Extended Care Pharmacy is expanding to Tucson this summer.

With 100-plus employees and more than $35 million a year in revenue, the Phoenix-based company provides pharmacy services to the long-term care industry.

Owner John Saliba founded the pharmacy in 1999 to serve the assisted-living industry. By 2003, it was serving 3,000 assisted-living patients all over Arizona. Today, it serves more than 6,000.

Saliba said he will start out with three employees in Tucson to support growth in Southern Arizona.

"If we provide value and provide world-class service, the financial end of it is going to be there," he said.
